Series: Irresistible
October 21, 2007

Pastor Tyler Scott

C.S. Lewis said, “The person who cannot conceive of a joyful and loyal obedience on the one hand, or an unembarrassed and noble obedience on the other hand – the one who has never even wanted to kneel or bow – is a prosaic barbarian. Your taproot to Eden has been cut. These are the ones to whom no rumor of the ‘the dance’ can reach.”

What if there were two places...and only two places...where God dared us to “dance?”

- Gender differences are from God, so they must be good .

- God gives us different gifts, and equips us for different roles, but Only in the home and the church .

- Is it fair ?
