#1: Good People go to Heaven, Bad People go to Hell Romans 4:1-8

You pull into the gas station, swipe your card, start pumping gas into your tank. Your cell phone rings. You almost answer it, but you stop yourself just in time. Because you've heard you better not use cell phones while pumping gas because they can produce small sparks that can ignite the gas and blow you skyhigh.

But wait. Is that actually true? Or is it a myth?

Sounds like a job for Mythbusters, the show that separates truth from myth. Every week, special-effects experts Adam Savage and Jamie Hyneman use modern science to separate fact from fiction, reality from urban legend.

Each week this Fall, what the TV show does in the physical world, we'll do in the spiritual world. We'll take a popular belief about spirituality or ethics, test it, and pronounce it Busted, Plausible, or Confirmed.

1. To go to heaven you must be _____ 4:5

2. To go to heaven you must _____ 4:5

3. To go to heaven you must _____ 4:5

"Good people go to heaven, bad people go to Hell" is . . .

Busted

Plausible

Confirmed

Next week: Many paths lead to God.
